Retractable Clothesline

The Retractable Clothesline is a must have for every garden. It's neat and stylish design means that it not only looks good but provides a simple yet useful solution to the issue of garden space

When in use you simply pull the line to the opposite end of the garden and attach it to the hook provided. The clever locking mechanism ensures that the weight of a full load can be easily held.

Once finished, just let it retract back to its original position, freeing up the garden for the kids to play or when entertaining friends at the weekend.

The line has been made from the highest quality materials to ensure that it can withstand the severest of weather and strain.
